Let's see what Karen says to that suggestion. She's hopefully back at work tomorrow. Not sure she's going to agree that it is productive at this point, given that the BDCP process essentially already has their screening done and alternatives fixed. But that's her call.

(My only thought is that if we are going to try to resurrect an MOU, we need to have a drafting meeting of ALL of the potential signatories, so that we don't get in an endless cycle of revising an MOU.)

Hi Tom,

Just got off of a call with Paul and Michael Jewell and we're all in agreement that our commitment is to try to develop which EPA can sign if at all possible. So it seems to us we could skip a call and just go straight to a sit down in room together with various drafts of this MOU type meeting and see what we can come up with. How does that sound?

Per the request at the Federal Team meeting this morning.

I think a phone call should be sufficient. Karen gave me her dates and times, which are incorporated in this Doodle Poll.

Just click on the link below and follow the instructions. Make sure to hit "save" at the end.

If you absolutely refuse to use computer scheduling, just look at the dates on the link and send me an email with your preferences.

Thanks in advance.
